

Grey Mountain Partners Acquires Global Security Glazing

Grey Mountain Partners (“Grey Mountain”) has acquired Global Security Glazing (“GSG”). Headquartered in Selma, Alabama, GSG manufactures institutional security, military, and custom architectural glass and glazing products.

Beth Lesniak, Vice President of Grey Mountain, said, “Global Security Glazing is a leader in its niche, serving a wide variety of customers from around the world that operate in several end markets that require highly-engineered ballistics- grade and custom architectural glass solutions.”

“We are very excited about this investment and the opportunity to rapidly grow GSG, leveraging its world-class manufacturing capabilities and reputation as the leader in the specialty glazing sector,” said Lesniak. “We will continue to invest in the future of GSG, entering additional markets through new product development and strategic acquisitions while also enhancing the company’s asset base. The heightened focus on safety and security for government buildings as well as the increasing demand for energy efficient glazing solutions represent growing market needs that GSG is uniquely suited to address. With over 50 years of operating experience, GSG has developed long standing relationships with its customers and vendors, and thus we are committed to preserving and elevating GSG’s reputation for best-in-class technical expertise, high performance products, and excellent customer service.”
